REPORT AMERICANS IN CHIHUAHUA SLAIN

TAKE TWO WEEKS
TO MUSTER BOYS
OUT OF SERVICE

Work Proceeds Slowly But the Men Are Well and Strong and in Good Spirits

HARD TO GET OUT AS IN

Red Tape Governs Every Move Against Future Claims and Program Guards for Pensions

(By A. M. Brayton.)

FORT SHERIDAN, D.L. Nov. 29.—Two weeks is the shortest time seriously considered for the mustering out and return home of the Third Wisconsin Infantry. This is based on experience of other regiments and on estimates developed from progress made from day to day. The work is very deliberate, but four or five hours per day being devoted to checking in the equipment.

There's almost as much red tape about getting out of the service as there is about getting into it. The men are practically quarantined at Fort Sheridan. They will be until their final physical examination is completed.

The reason is that Uncle Sam doesn't propose to pay pensions in consequence of disease or injuries not actually encountered in his service. The examination consists of a list of questions, as "Trilly" would have said, "in the altogether."

Following are the questions each man must answer:

1. Declaration of Person Examined.—Have you any reason to believe that at the present time you are suffering from the effects of any wound, injury, or disease, or that you have any disability or impairment of health, whether incurred in the military service or otherwise?

2. If so, describe the disability, stating the nature and location of the wound, injury, or disease.

3. When was the disability incurred?

4. Where was the disability incurred?

5. State the circumstances, if known, under which the disability was incurred.

I declare that the foregoing questions and my answers thereto have been read over to me, and that I fully understand the questions, and that my answers to them are true in every respect and are correctly recorded.

When the reports are completed they will be sent to the adjutant general of the United States army, whereupon the men will be mustered out as provided in the mustering regulations.

The foregoing questions do not pass unverified. To the company commander of each soldier goes a similar list which serves to check up the soldier's answers about himself. In case he tries to make a case, or actually has suffered injuries with which the officer is unacquainted, investigation follows, and there is little chance to "put one over" on Uncle Sam. However, the injustice usually is in the other direction. For the men's eagerness to get home without delays attending investigation often induces them to hide actual injuries.

The men are drilled daily, as usual. There is no lot-up of the discipline maintained on the frontier. The men are well—hard as rocks—and while glad to be going home, few of them regret the service they have rendered.

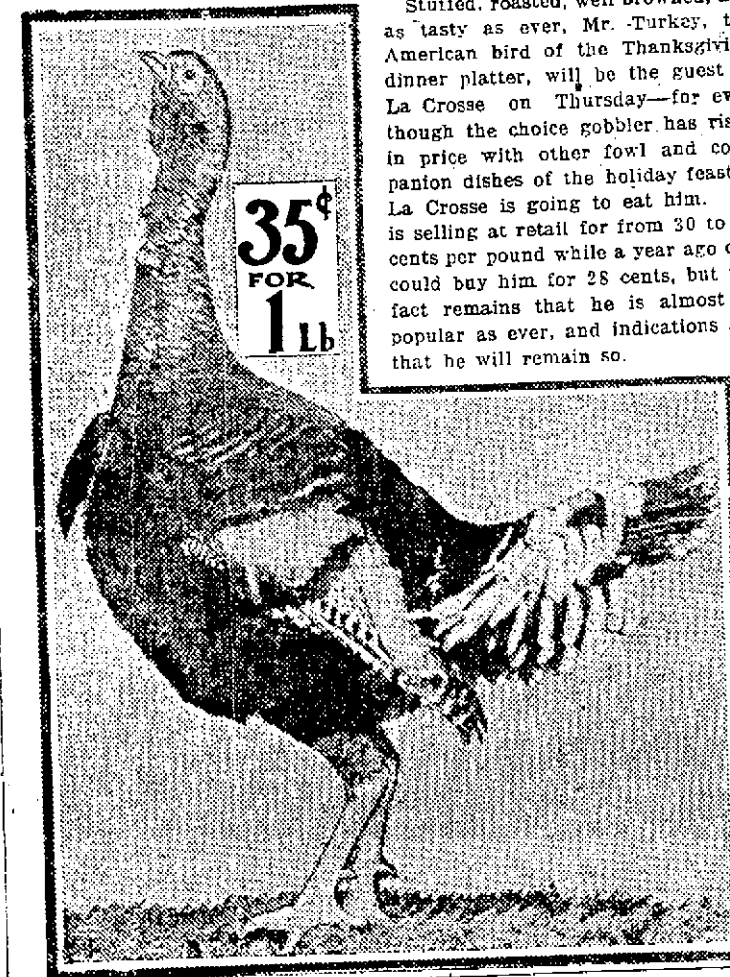

Capt. F. H. Fowler of M Company, is motoring home with Mrs. Fowler, but will return to his command here later. The other officers of M and B companies are here and well, although Lieut. Erickson of M has just been ordered back to service following an operation.

FIRE IS NEARLY FATAL TO MANY

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 29.—Several firemen narrowly escaped being trapped to death, several were injured and a damage estimated at $50,000 was done here today when fire, starting in the dry kiln of the Wollaefer Manufacturing company, located on the edge of the Milwaukee river, swept through the factory shortly after 7 a. m.

Spartan In English Camp

Arthur L. Hollenbeck, Once La Crosse Resident, Runs Into Correspondent When He Asks Leave for the Evening

He Had Pound In Pocket

SOMEWHERE ON THE ENGLISH COAST, Nov. 11.—(By Mail)—Wearing the king's khaki and ready to die for Britain, a legion of American troops in Canada's army, still wonder just why they "joined up." "Why do Americans enlist?" was the question put to individuals of the legion by the United Press correspondent.

"Boiled down" to two words, their answer is, "Just because." Captain P. H. Burr, of Columbus, Ohio, for all his ready fire of talk, developed as an automobile salesman in Los Angeles, is unable to say exactly what impulse made him take the step. He served two years in Cuba with the Seventh United States Infantry.

Burr was discovered unpacking his trunk by candle light shortly after the legion's arrival in a temporary camp. Glimming through the dancing half light, were the stars and stripes, tucked inside the tilted trunk lid.

"The exact motive will always be a mystery to me," he said, pausing in his domestic labors. "There are lots of suggestions—hatred of Germany, admiration for France, the love of adventure."

They don't exactly fit the case. Then there's the six-best-seller idea: domestic tragedies, and scrambled love affairs. If any man in the outfit is suffering from a cracked heart he is guarding his secret mightily well. Mix all these elements together and add the big impulse and you'll have the answer. But don't ask me about that impulse.

"The question our men are asking is not 'Why am I here,' but 'When do we go to France?' Nearly seventy per cent have fought in the American army from China to Cuba and the remainder served with college cadets corps or state militia."

A sergeant saluted and addressed the captain.

"I'd like to have an evening's leave, sir," he said.

"How much pay did you draw today?"

"Five dollars—I mean a pound, sir."

"Sergeant, why did you enlist?" Burr asked abruptly.

The soldier grinned and replied: "Excuse my French, but I'm damned if I know."

He departed with an evening's leave. Continued on page six, column four.

The Turkey Day
Game

LA CROSSE high school and Edgerton high school, rival claimants for the football championship of the state, will meet on Normal field Thursday afternoon. The time of the game is set for 2:45, in order to allow Turkey day diners plenty of opportunity to dispose of the annual feast before the game. A tremendous crowd is expected, as it is the first acknowledged battle for the state title which has been seen in La Crosse. Seats are selling for fifty and seventy-five cents.

COMMITTEE LOOKS TOWARD PLAN FOR REGULAR MARKETS

Tuesday Success Brings Suggestion for Launching Permanent Market Here

MAY ASK COUNCIL HELP

Suggested Referendum for a Small-denomination Bond Issue May Be Started by Petition

Greatly encouraged by the success of the second test of a public market, members of the agricultural bureau of the Chamber of Commerce are already discussing plans for launching a permanent market in La Crosse. Tentative suggestions are being made for application to the council for the erection of a modest building of suitable sort on the market square, and it is regarded as entirely probable that before Christmas a third market day will be held.

The market day committee was contemplating offering a reward on Wednesday for the apprehension of one woman who made off with a goose displayed by one of the farmers at the market. A second woman, who stole a fowl, was caught Tuesday evening, and required to make good the cost. The committee paid the farmer for the other stolen geese, and is now prosecuting a vigorous search for the woman who took it.

Small-Bond Issue Talked Among the plans suggested for a permanent market, the most novel is a suggestion for the issue of bonds of $10, in order to allow interested people in the city to become financially interested in the success of the market. It is pointed out that the interest which housewives displayed Friday and Tuesday is essential for continued success, and it is believed that by enlisting the people through the sale of small bonds, a maintenance of this interest can be assured.

Members of the market day committee Wednesday were discussing launching a petition for a referendum vote, for presentation to the council, on the proposed bond issue.

Farmers Want Another Dozens of the farmers, who found the market Tuesday eclipsing their rosiest imaginations, applied to the committee during the day for another similar opportunity. They suggested that a market day shortly before Christmas would be an opportune occasion.

ALUMNI ROOTERS
IN BIG SESSION
BEFORE THE GAME

Parade and Bonfire in Market Square Will Precede Meeting at the Theater

MEETING WILL BE SHORT

Members of Team and Prominent Alumni Are to Make Short Talks

A big bonfire on the Market Square and a mammoth meeting in the La Crosse theater will be the main items of the big alumni football celebration which is to be held Wednesday evening. The hour was set for 8 o'clock.

Staid business men who have not shouted in years were seen at downtown stores Wednesday morning, stocking up with throat lozenges and other remedies, for word has gone out that alumni who can't get up enough school spirit to yell themselves hoarse will be out of place.

The North La Crosse band has volunteered its services to supply a musical setting for the football enthusiasm.

The meeting will be short and snappy, according to President Otto Schlabach of the alumni association. Myron S. Locke, former rooting-king, will be master of ceremonies and hortator-in-chief for the lungs of the multitude. Principal Sam Tift of the high school and several of the 1916 team will be asked to say a few words, and the alumni orators will include Otto Bosshard, James Thompson, Harry Spence and Arthur T. Holmes.

The audience, however, will be expected to do most of the speaking—said speaking to be conducted in a raucous tone of voice in the shape of familiar yells and songs.

Following the meeting, the high school students have arranged for a big bonfire on the Market Square.

NEW OFFICIALS TO TAKE OFFICE ON NEW YEAR'S DAY

If recently elected county officers follow the law prescribed in state statutes, they will be sworn into office on New Year's Day, which happens to fall on Monday. The only changes in the county house will be in the offices of clerk of circuit court and in the sheriff's office. Frank H. Aiken, elected clerk two years ago, will be succeeded by Judge Leonard Kleiber. Undersheriff John A. Weber will become sheriff. Register of Deeds A. E. Thompson, Treasurer Ole Lund and County Clerk Bert A. Jolliffe will retain their offices.

UNEASINESS OVER
GERMAN RELATIONS
GROWS IN CAPITAL

Evident Intention of Germany to Admit Guilt in Marina Case May Not Be Sufficient

THREAT OF BREAK LOOMS

Government May Find Itself Forced to Carry Out Threat; Little Worry Over the Chemung Case

BY CARL D. GROAT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Sinister indications of German guilt in the Marina torpedoing coupled with the apparently innocent case of sinking of the American steamer Chemung, served on Wednesday to again accentuate official uneasiness over German-American relations.

Germany was believed here Wednesday to be paving the way to admit guilt in the torpedoing of the steamer Marina with loss of six American lives. Further, authorities claimed to see a hint that she intends to do as heretofore—seek settlement of the case through confession, reparation and offer of indemnity.

But, if the administration follows its words of the past week, this will be insufficient.

Germany's reported willingness "to accept consequences" puzzled officials, though on the whole they felt the Teutons expected the case to end as others were—satisfactorily without a diplomatic break.

Sinking of the American steamer Chemung may give rise to some controversy but is unlikely to be productive of a "crisis," officials believe from facts now at hand.

This case appears in many ways to parallel the William P. Frye sinking in which a monetary settlement will be accepted. The Austrian submarine involved, apparently, complied with American demands that passengers of a torpedoed ship be given sufficient safety and accommodations.

The Marina answer was expected here Wednesday. Upon it will depend what the United States does, but it facts shape up as they now trend, this government may find itself face to face with the question of carrying out its Sussex note threat to break relations.

Austrian or German? LONDON, Nov. 29.—Whether the submarine which sank the American steamer Chemung with the stars and stripes fluttering from her masthead was a German or Austrian craft was expected to be officially revealed Wednesday, with receipt of complete reports by American Ambassador Page from American Consul Putnam, at Valencia, Spain.

Both Americans here and the British government were anxious to fix the identity of the craft beyond a doubt. All accounts agree that Captain John L. Duffy and his crew refused the submarine commander's orders to strike the American flag before the Chemung was sunk by a torpedo and gun fire.

Initial official advice from the American consul at Valencia say the attacking vessel was Austrian.

SEVEN AUTOS DESTROYED

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 29.—Seven automobiles were destroyed in a $15,000 fire which gutted an automobile garage at 152 Twelfth street Tuesday. Back-firing of a car when E. H. Hason was cranking it caused sparks to ignite the gasoline tank and an explosion followed.

Trevino Left City After Villa Had Drawn Exhaustion of Artillery Ammunition

EL PASO, Texas, Nov. 29.—By cutting the Mexican Northwestern railway line near Guzman early in the day, Villista bandits closed the channel by which forage supplies were forwarded to General Pershing's American expeditionary forces.

A small band of Villistas today burned several bridges on both sides of Guzman, about eighty miles southwest of the border, according to a report made to United States authorities here.

Unless the bridges are repaired, it will be necessary for Pershing to haul forage overland from Columbus, N. M., by trucks. At the present time the expedition has a large reserve supply on hand.

The point where the railway was severed is only about forty miles from General Pershing's lines of communication.

Failure of Berlin to Report Large Captures of Men Leads to Belief Rumanians May Halt Their Retreat

REPORT CAPITAL MOVED

Unconfirmed Report Says Seat of Government Has Been Taken to Town 200 Miles Northeast of Bucharest

LONDON, Nov. 29.—Progress of Field Marshall von Mackensen forces from the newly captured town of Glurgiu, on the Danube, was the crux of the Rumanian situation Wednesday, if the Teuton wedge of cavalry can be blunted and its power stopped until the Rumanian army had fallen back to its latest line of defenses—presumably along the Argesu river—the Rumanians reinforced by the Russians, may yet halt their retreat.

It was pointed out here as a continued augury of hope in the Rumanian situation that the Berlin official statements are still significantly silent as to capture of large bodies of troops or of transport supplies—in the view of the allies, that the Rumanian retreat has been an orderly one and that it has escaped most of the encircling movements on which the German Balkan campaign has been based.

Paris reports that the capital of Rumania has temporarily been established at Jassy, about two hundred miles northeast of Bucharest, close on the Russian line were unconfirmed. Such a move, however, would not be unexpected. With German not be unexpected. With German

When by count the bandit chief ascertained the shells were nearly gone the final assault on the city was begun.

As far as known there were six Americans living in Chihuahua City. In addition, there were a number of Germans and French and scores of Chinese. At last accounts, Captain Scobell, British consul, and the French consul were still in the town.

Says Murguia's Men "Quit" From meager details it is thought that General Ozueta, with another remnant of de facto cavalry, numbering one hundred, fled northward to Saur.

General Murguia's column of government troops which started north from Torreon to reinforce the Chihuahua garrison, reduced to half by desertion of part of the Yaqui Indians, would not fight against Villa, a Chinese merchant refugee reaching Fort Hancock Wednesday declared.

In El Paso military circles it is doubted if Villa will attempt to hold Chihuahua City. Carranzista officials at the border are said to have stated the de facto government would mass forces north and south at once to recapture the city.

The fall of Chihuahua City is a severe blow to the power of the Mexican de facto government in northern Mexico. However, military observers point out that without heavy artillery and a large supply of ammunition, Villa cannot hope to hold the city against the government forces.

Since 1781 the city has had a bloody and turbulent history. The town has been attacked twenty times.

Weather Conditions

The eastern high is moving slowly off the Atlantic coast and the temperature is generally higher from Florida to Maine. The northwestern storm is now central in the Lake Superior district and local showers have occurred from the upper lakes to the east gulf states and continue at a few stations this morning. The Pacific high is central over the central Rocky mountain districts and the temperature is lower in that section but is above zero at all stations.
These pressure conditions indicate generally fair weather in this section tonight and Thursday with somewhat lower temperature tonight.

DANDRUFF GOES!

HAIR GETS THICK, WAVY, BEAUTIFUL

Save your hair! Double its beauty in a few moments.
Try this!

Hair stops coming out and every particle of dandruff disappears.

Try as you will, after an application of Danderine, you can not find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most, will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes, but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is immediate and amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance, the beauty and shimmer of true hair health.

Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all.
Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

CLASS-MINDED SHORT-SIGHTED

There is a bitter labor war on in San Francisco—a war in which a great combination of business men professedly bound together for the common interest of the city is spending hundreds of thousands of dollars to discountenance and discourage trades unionism. Under the banner of suppression of strike violence and coercion, the business interests of the Golden Gate are employ- ing not only violence but unscrupulous coercion to fling San-Francisco back to the conditions of the open shop—open only to non-union men.

An investigator for the "Survey", writing of the San Fran- cisco situation, says:

The law and order committee became active in inducing the restau- rants to hear the brunt of the struggle for the open shop. Although, at first, there was a disposition on the part of a number of proprietors in the Restaurant Owners' association, even some of the large ones, to concede the eight-hour day, to force these unwilling owners into the fight, the club credit was used. The large wholesalers co-operated to bring pressure to bear on the restaurant man who would not put the open-shop card in his window. On the other hand, financial aid was promised from the war, and to any restaurant which might be injured by the open-shop fight, and property owners pledged two months' free rent to restaurants which might need it. Coupon books good in all open-shop restaurants were sold to busi- ness men and their employees, the former leaving their clubs in groups to patronize open-shop restaurants. Thus in every way restaurant owners were forced into and kept in the Restaurant Owners' association.

In the water-front strike, for instance, two union men were murder- ed by gunmen. Neither of these murders was provoked. When the gun- men were brought to trial, Chamber of Commerce lawyers were there to defend them. The labor man sees no essential difference between the violence which he may use to protect his right to work under the condi- tions which he deems fair, and the violence of an armed guard who is paid to oppress him.

In the culinary workers' strike a dozen or so pickets were charged with disturbing the peace. These charges were usually based on trivial acts, such as shouting their admonitions too loud. But in this same strike a number of other arrests were made at the instigation of the unions for reasons more serious than disturbing the peace. There are three cases of private detectives in the employ of the Restaurant Owners' association charged with assaulting pickets on their way home. Weapons were found on all of these detectives.

Indeed, the Chamber of Commerce lawyers have appeared as special prosecutors in all cases of arrest of pickets in both the water-front strike and as defenders of the law-violators employed by their own members. These attorneys have on the one hand helped to secure the conviction, and a picket for calling the cashier in a non-union restaurant a prostitute, and on the other have defended a non-union restaurant employer for calling a woman picket the same name. The conclusion is forced on an observ- er in San Francisco that law and order means Chamber of Commerce law and order.

It is difficult to understand how an organization composed of business men, true to its profession of the larger interest of the city, could be thus class-minded and short-sighted. The San Francisco organization is archaic in its thinking, if it con- sidered that conditions in which the employer has all the best of it, and the employee must take only what the employer is willing to give up, are conditions which make for the permanent progress and prosperity of a city. That is a program which enlightened self-interest has dropped overboard, along with the theory that industrial risks are none of the employers' affair, or that effi- ciency demands that the superannuated worker be cast ruth- lessly on the scrap-heap.

We have heard much of industrial preparedness, not only for war but for the military peace and economic struggle for com- mercial supremacy which will follow this present war. All the sounding oratory in the world will not solidify the industrial organization of the United States into any manner of organized efficiency so long as capital refuses labor the first right which it demands for itself—the right to work together for its own interest. It is a hopeful sign of democracy that the "Survey" is able to predict the failure of San Francisco's attack on union labor.

THE SECOND "JIG" AN APPRECIATION

An issue such as the New Era Edition of The TRIBUNE which appeared Tuesday calls for effort which those unac- quainted with the operation of a modern newspaper could scarcely realize. It is a work of months, a sort of journalistic endurance race in which stamina and good wind are as essential as ordered plans and comprehensive information. It entails an extraordinary amount of fatiguing detail work—and all of it extra upon the hard-pressed forces of the newspaper after the "jig is up". Which is to say that for every regular day's work spent in producing the regular editions of the paper, which the pat nomenclature of the composing room knows as "the jig", there follows, instead of leisure, hours more of toil on the special edition. It is a second "jig", the measure of which is the harder to tread for the mental and bodily weariness that naturally en- sues upon a good day's work.

No body of men, we believe, could have entered with better spirit into the wearing second "jig" than the men of The TRIB- UNE. Its publishers are glad to pay them this tribute of appre- ciation. There has been a service which money alone could not have bought, a service of loyalty and co-operation beyond esti- mation in terms of lucre.

No small part of the appeal which the New Era Edition presented to The TRIBUNE's patrons lay, it is safe to say, in the clear, clean-cut illustrations which enlivened most of its pages. Probably no similar newspaper effort in La Crosse has main- tained such uniform excellence in the matter of its pictures. For this high standard which prevailed TRIBUNE readers have to thank the two alert young men who maintain the Northern En- graving company—they and the experts of The TRIBUNE's stereotyping department. From first to last, their connection with the New Era Edition has been a record of watchful care and painstaking, despite the press of a tremendous volume of work.

The TRIBUNE feels it would be less than justice to its counting-room and editorial staffs, its composing and press rooms, and the scores of interested men and women who gave freely of their sympathetic interest as well as their skill and time, did it not commend them to the esteem of a public which has given a most gratifying reception to the New Era Edition.

Progress is not an accident, it is a product. Success is not "luck", it is an achievement. Every forward step represents ef- fort, and who slips ahead is no less likely to a fall than who slips backward.

WASHINGTON STREET
Washington street in Boston is one of the great thoroughfares of Amer- ica, worthy to rank with Broadway in New York and Michigan Avenue in Chicago. Like nearly everything else in Boston, it has a history of al- most incredible length and respecta- bility, making other streets seem painfully young and callow and crude. Moreover, Washington street is one of the longest in the world, running all the way through Boston and on to another town without a stop or a break. This is not accom- plished without many a bend and meander, however, for Washington street is amazingly crooked, as are nearly all the thoroughfares of Pur- itan origin. It seems that the May- flower party did not realize how big Boston was going to be, and so they carelessly let the cows lay out the streets as they wandered homeward.
Washington street today does not look like an aristocrat of ancient lineage, however. On the contrary, it appears decidedly democratic, swarming with all sorts of people who jostle and push each other on the narrow overflowing sidewalks in the bright glare of numerous electric signs that flash the rival cafes of moving picture shows, bars and cafés.
One of the most curious things about this street is that despite its crowding, all of the people try to walk on one side. The other side- walk is nearly deserted. It simply goes to show how greatly Boston is yet dominated by tradition and habit.

MOTOR ROLLER SKATES
Roller skating as a means of trans- portation as well as a recreation has a practical value, and a number of inventors are continually at work in perfecting it. One of the newest models provides a small gasoline en- gine upon each skate supplying the power so that the skater has no phys- ical exertion excepting to steer his course. It is not quite satisfactory yet because the engine is so small that it is difficult to get the explo- sive mixture into them and to dis- charge the burnt gases, but it is be- lieved these difficulties will be over- come and the motor roller skate be- come as popular for general use as the motor cycle.

"That'll bear thinking about," Persis returned with no sign of re- senting her friend's assumption. "And while I'm turning it over in my mind, let Thad alone, and don't wear yourself out worrying." The injunc- tion probably had a figurative import through Mrs. West interpreted it lit- erally.
—Wear myself out. I can't so much as wear off a pound. I've been too upset to eat or sleep for the last two months, and I've been gaining right along. Most folks can reduce by go- ing without breakfast, but seems as if it don't make any difference with me whether I touch victuals or not."
She was rising ponderously when Persis checked her. "Your serge, Miss West. We were going to see if it was worth making over."

"It's time to get supper, Persis, and there ain't a mite of hurry about that serge. Truth is," explained Mrs. West, lowering her voice to a confi- dential murmur, "twasn't altogether the dress that brought me over. I sort of hankered for a talk with you. There never was such a hand as you be, Persis, to hearten a body up."

Persis found no time that evening for grappling with the problem for which she had voluntarily made her- self responsible. The preparation of Joel's supper was a task demanding time and prayerful consideration, for it was the case with most chronic in- valids, his fastidiousness concerning his food approached the proportions of a mania. Her efforts to gratify her brother's insatiable curiosity on points of history and literature, had put her several hours behind with her sewing, and as she owned to a most unprofessional pride in keeping her word to the letter, a midnight found her still at work. A few min- utes later she folded away the fin- ished garment and picked from the rag carpet the usual litter of scraps and basting threads, after which she was at liberty to attend to that mys- terious rite known to the house- keeper as "Shutting up for the night," a rite never to be omitted, even in the village of Clematis where a locked door is held to indicate that somebody is putting on airs.

Candle in hand, Persis paused be- fore a photograph, framed in blue plush and occupying a prominent po- sition on the mantel. "Good night, Justin," she said in as matter-of-fact a tone as if she were exchanging farewells with some chance caller. As the candle flickered, a wave of ex- pression seemed to cross the face in the plush frame, almost as if it had smiled.

It was a pleasant young face with a good forehead and frank eyes. The indeterminate sweetness of the mouth and chin hinted that this was a man in the making, his strength to be wrought out, his weakness to be mastered. Like the blue plush the photograph was faded, as were also, the roses in Persis' cheeks. It was twenty years since they had kissed each other good-by in that very room, boy and girl, sure of them- selves and of the future. Justin was going away to make a home for her, and Persis would wait for him, if he need be, till her hair was gray.

He had been unfortunate from the start. Up in the garret, spicy with the fragrance of dried herbs and of camphor, were his letters, locked away away in a small horse-hair trunk. Twice a year Persis opened the trunk to dust the letters, and sometimes she drew out the contents of a yellowing envelope and read a line here and there. These were let- ters over which she had wept long, long before—blurred in places by youth's hot tears, the letters she had carried on her heart. They were full of the excuses in which failure is in- variably fertile, breathing from every page the fatal certainty that luck would soon turn.

The letters became infrequent af- ter old Mr. Ware's "stroke," Persis understood. For them there could be no thought of marrying nor giving in marriage while the old man was helpless. All that Justin could spare from his scant earnings, little enough, she knew, must be sent home. And meanwhile Joel having discovered in a three months' illness his fitness to play the part of invalid, had apparently decided to make the role permanent. Like many another, Persis had found in work and re- sponsibility a mysterious solace for the incessant dull ache at her heart.

That was twenty years before. Per- sis Dale, climbing the stairs as nim- bly as if it were early morning and she herself just turned sixteen, seemed a woman eminently practical. Yet in the changes of those twenty years, though trouble had been a frequent guest under the sloping roof of the old-fashioned house and death had entered more than once, there had never been a time when Persis had gone to her bed without a good night to the photograph in the blue plush frame, never a morning when she had begun the day with- out looking into the eyes of the old lover.

The most practical woman that ever made a button-hole or rolled a pie- crust, despite a gray shimmer at her temples and a significant tracery at the corners of her eyes, has a cham- ber in her heart marked "private" where she keeps enshrined some ten- der memory. At the core, every wo- man is a sentimentalist.

CHAPTER II
The Lover

Thomas Hardin, trudging through the dusk of the spring evening, his shoulders stooping and his hands thrust deep into his pockets, wore an expression better befitting an apprehensive criminal than an expect- ant lover. As he approached the Dale cottage where the light of Persis' lamp shone redly through the cur- tained window, his look of gloom in- creased, and he gave vent to fre- quent and explosive sighs.

The sense of unworthiness likely to overwhelm the best of men who seek the love of a good woman, was in Thomas' case complicated by a morbidly sensitive conscience and ruthless honesty. To Thomas, Persis Dale represented all that was love- liest in womankind, but he would have resigned unhesitatingly all hope of winning her rather than have gained her promise under false pretenses. "I can stand getting the notion if it comes to that," Thomas assured himself with a fearful sink- ing of the heart, which belted the boast. "But I can't stand the idea of taking her in." When she knew him at his undisguised worst, it would be time enough to consider taking him for a possible better.

Unluckily for his peace of mind, confession was more intricate and protracted than in his complacency he would have believed. It seemed impossible to finish with it. When-

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets
That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Ta- blets, the substitute for calomel.
Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time en- emy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing, vegetable laxative.
No gripping is the "key-note" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.
If you have a "dark brow" mouth" tired and then—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.
Thousands take one or two every night just to keep right. Try them, 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

NEWS NOTES—MOVIELAND
—BY DAISY DEAN—

Word comes from New York that Mary Alden, who has been seen in Biograph, Pathe Freres and Fine Arts pictures, has left the screen and transferred her activities temporarily at least to the stage. Miss Alden was seen last on the screen in Mary Pickford's new picture, "Less Than Dust." She was the young Mulatto girl in "The Birth of a Nation," and was seen later as the wife in "The Battle Cry of Saxon."

Miss Alden, who is something of an artist and linguist as well as an actress, was born in New Orleans. She is a grand-niece of the famous southern commandant, General Beau- regard.

Suggestions
Director Sherwood MacDonald of Balboa pictures, is persona non grata at the home of a charming couple of his company's stars.

There's a new and incomparable infant at that house, and the direc- tor was persuaded by droll amateur humorists of the company to submit to the proud father a list of names for the child, suggested by the afore- said humorists.

The list was Prunella, Tansy, Castoria, Gingerella and Filum.

Distinction

Frank Borsage can strike a match with his thumb nail. Eugenie Bick- sery can and does make good chick- en pie. Al W. Filson grows alligator pearls at his residence in Los Angeles.

Einar Linden's chief claim to dis- tinction aside from the artistic ex- cellence of his work as a movie ac- tor, is that in 1914 his leg was broken by an automobile belonging to Presi- dent Poincaré of France.

Movie Writers
Emmet Campbell Hall, movie author, won the Universal company's scenario contest, and $250.

Indicating the number of persons who are writing movies, or trying to do so, the number of scenarios en- tered in this contest was over 25,000.

Sometimes Thomas felt that his reputation for uprightness was a proof of hypocrisy, and that his friends and neighbors would shrink away aghast if they suspected a fraction of his unsavory secrets.

A Human Garbage Box!

(By SAMUEL HAMILTON, M. D.)
The lower intestine is a receptacle for waste matter. It is most important that this garbage box be not neglected, for many are the victims of disease traceable to neglect of this part of the food tube. Eat coarse food, drink plenty of pure water, and occasionally take a mild laxative such as you can obtain at any drug store. Ask for Pleasant Pills, which were invented by Dr. Pierce 40 or 50 years ago and made of May-apple, jalap, leaves of aloes. Thus you will prevent the poisons entering the blood.

The more injurious the poisons passing through the kidneys, the quicker will those organs degenerate. The wise policy is to lighten the work of the kidneys by taking Anuric before meals. If uric acid in the blood has caused rheumatism, lumbago, gout, sciatic, it is wonderful how quickly Anuric dispels the pain and stiffness. Anuric can be obtained at almost any drug store.

WISCONSIN WOMEN

Waukesha, Wis.—"I have taken Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and received great benefits from its use. About 18 years ago I was ill with weakness and my blood was in bad condition as well. Doctors' medicine did not seem to give me the relief I thought I should have, so I began taking 'Favorite Prescription' and it cured me in a short space of time and I have never had any return of my ailment. I do certainly recommend it as being good."

—MRS. MINNIE STENSLOFF, 319 Pleasant Street.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a non-alcoholic remedy that any ailing woman can safely take because it is prepared from roots and herbs. It is not a secret remedy because its ingredients are printed on wrapper.

All druggists sell it in either liquid or tablet form.

ROBS TOMAH DRUG STORE ON SABBATH DOPE FIEND CAUGHT

TOMAH, Wis. (Special.)—Dave Metzken of Milwaukee, was arrested in this city Sunday evening and sentenced in Justice Hollister's court to thirty days in the county jail, where he was taken by Deputy Johnson on Monday.

Metzken was charged with breaking into W. E. Bosshard's drug store Sunday afternoon. He broke the lock on a medicine case, containing morphine and cocaine, taking the drugs it contained. He took nothing else from the store, it is said. Mr. Charles Smith saw him leave the store, and with Mr. Bosshard and Mr. Preston identified him in the American hotel Sunday evening.

Form Holiday Club

At a meeting of a number of the alumni at the high school Monday afternoon, it was decided to form an alumni holiday club, the purpose of which will be to give a dance between Christmas and New Year each year. This will in no way interfere with the regular alumni banquet at commencement. There is a large number of alumni who are unable to be here at commencement, but are here during the holidays, hence this club has been formed so that every one may get together and enjoy an informal reception and dance. Invitations will be sent to all of the alumni and they in turn may each invite a guest.

At the meeting, Katherine Howes was elected president and the following chairmen were elected: Reception—Tim Donovan. Decorations—Una King. Invitations—John Warren. Music—Margaret Moran. Program—George Knick.

Many of the alumni will be called to assist the different chairmen.

Club Presents Play
The Civic club will present at the Armory hall Friday evening, Dec. 1, about seventy-five school children in "Tom Thumb's Wedding," under the personal direction of Miss Fell of Kansas City, Mo.

The Saturday Auction Bridge club was entertained Saturday afternoon by Mrs. L. W. Earle. Two tables of duplicate bridge were played. After which tea was served at 4 o'clock. The guest of honor was Mrs. John O'Dea of Canton, O. The other guests were the Mesdames Flx. Wells, Tuttle, Hanover, Roberts, Winters and Miss Adeline Kelfer.

The Bay View club met with Mrs. Drew Monday afternoon. Leader, Mrs. Syverson and Mrs. Uebelle.

Miss Lila Bongors entertained several of her girl friends Monday evening.

The families of W. R. McCaul, W. E. Pletting and W. E. Bartels and Messrs. John Warren and Paul Rowlands motored to Waterville Sunday afternoon, where they enjoyed an afternoon skating.

The Misses Mabel Talbot, Helen Smith, Virgil King and Maude King and the Messrs. Royal Kilmar, Vere Johnson and Louis Barnes spent last Sunday at Flora Dell.

Miss Bertha Townsend returned on Monday morning after a few days' visit in Milwaukee.

YOU WOULD NOT KNOW THEY HAD EVER HAD CATARRH

Two People—One in Evansville and One in Richmond Cured Long Ago, but Still Praise S. S. S. for What It Did for Them.

Mr. J. R. Bellan, of 2122 Chaffin Street, Richmond, Virginia, was cured of Catarrh several years ago and wrote us recently: "You would not know I had ever had Catarrh at all now. I know there is no remedy like S. S. S."

Mr. Geo. D. Carr, of 209 Edgar Street, Evansville, Indiana, was likewise cured of Catarrh many years ago and he recently wrote us: "I am well and alright and feel just fine. Still take from one to two bottles of S. S. S. each Spring for the Blood and I don't know anything better than S. S. S. I don't have any more pimples either. Am well and O. K. and still at work."

A host of other people have been cured by the same method, purifying and strengthening their blood with S. S. S. and thereby enabling the Blood to drive out the Catarrh germs. Catarrh is a blood disease and to get rid of it permanently you have got to strengthen and purify your blood.

The season for Catarrh is here. Look out for colds. Don't take any chances with bad air. Stay in the open air as much as possible. Sleep in the open, and keep your system up to par by taking S. S. S. Don't take chances with Catarrh. It is dangerous.

What many people believe to be the disease Catarrh, is really only a symptom. The most common symptom of this disease in the system is an inflamed and tender condition of the breathing passages and the blocking of throat and nostrils with mucus. But this is only the symptom—the cause is deeper. The cause is in the Blood and to permanently rid yourself of the disease take S. S. S. and purify your Blood.

S. S. S. is a scientific blending of the extracts of certain native roots and herbs which act directly on the blood. Its action is to cleanse and purify and strengthen the blood corpuscles so they fight off disease.

S. S. S. contains no mineral ingredients and besides being the best blood purifier and builder is a wonderful tonic. Write for our specially prepared booklet on Catarrh. It is free.

THANKSGIVING DAY MATINEE IN "ANTON—The TERRIBLE"

The story is laid in Russia at the present time, the plot dealing with a people's fight for freedom. Theodore Roberts is conceded to be one of the best character actors in pictures. Paramount PICTOGRAPHS shows the Battle of Somme, the first authentic French picture.

Last times Tonight, Carlyle Blackwell in "THE MADNESS OF HELEN."

"PRINCESS PAT" TO BE TURKEY DAY ENTERTAINMENT

Victor Herbert's and Henry Blossom's biggest musical comedy success, "The Princess Pat," for many months the rage of the east, both in New York and Boston, comes to La Crosse theater on Thanksgiving Day for performances both in the afternoon and evening. The production visits La Crosse after a long engagement at the Garrick theater in the Windy City.

The Turkey Day matinee, will begin at 3 o'clock sharp. La Crosse is to be complimented on an entertainment of brilliancy of "The Princess Pat" on the national holiday, and it is expected that the play will be one of the most popular events of the day.

Mr. Cort, producer of this delightful offering, has retained practically the complete original cast, ensemble and orchestra for the performance which visits La Crosse. The excellent organization will include among its principle, Blanche Duffield, Oscar Figman, Al Shean, Alexander Clark, Louis Casavant, William Quimby, David Quixano, Ralph Riggs, and Katherine Witchele.

It is not burdened with a large chorus, just enough pretty young women making up the chorus to bring out Victor Herbert's pretty songs.

ANITA KING SAYS CO-STAR IS WONDER

"Isn't he wonderful!" exclaimed Anita King, the Lasky star, to be seen in the Paramount attraction at the Bijou Thanksgiving day, Friday and Saturday as co-star with Theodore Roberts in the Jesse L. Lasky production of "Anton the Terrible."

The object of her remark was a villainous Cossack with close-cropped hair, a black moustache and a cruel mouth. He was raising a knout over the quivering form of a young girl. It was Anton himself, but underneath the surface of cruelty could be discerned Theodore Roberts.

"You know," Miss King continued, "ever since I have seen a photodramatic actress, Mr. Roberts, or 'The Governor,' as we all call him, has been my ideal artist. He is so splendid in everything he does. He can be a quiet, lovable father, or he can be the brutal Anton that he is now. Really, I have studied him so much, that I have learned that this play-acting is not all in the day's work with him, but that each one is a carefully and considered creation."

"The Madness of Helen," is playing again tonight for the last time.

FARMER BURNED TO DEATH

MANITOWOC, Wis., Nov. 23.—James Ryan, a farmer who resided two miles from the village of Apple Grove, was burned to death when his house was destroyed by fire. A few charred bones were found on the springs of a bed. Ryan was 55 years old, unmarried, and lived alone. Nothing is known how the fire started.

SENTENCED FOR ASSAULT

WAUSAU, Wis., Nov. 23.—Peter Bebeau of Tomahawk, pleaded guilty in circuit court to a charge of having committed a malicious assault upon a girl under the age of 15 years, and was sentenced to serve a term of three years in the state reformatory at Green Bay.

EASY TO DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

You can Bring Back Color and Lustre with Sage Tea and Sulphur.

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. For 50 cents you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound and look years younger. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite and not a medicine. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

MARY PICKFORD IN INDIA FOR LATEST FILM OFFERING

In "Less than the Dust," the new picture in which Mary Pickford comes to the La Crosse theater for a four-day engagement Dec. 4, she will be introduced to her host of admirers in the guise of a deserted orphan of English birth who has been adopted by a sword maker in an East India city and reared among the natives. Later it is discovered who she is but not until she has gone through all of the anguish following the treatment by those who know her only as one of lower caste and less than the dust. The scenario, full of drama, thrilling scenes and delightful comedy was written by Hector Turnbull with John Emerson as the director. The supporting cast is one of distinction and in all more than two hundred and fifty people appear in the scenes which are laid in India and England. In one of the incidents of the battle scene the little girl rescues a British soldier who has been wounded and he in the end wins her heart.

WAUSAU PLANS AUTO SHOW

WAUSAU, Wis., Nov. 23.—If plans of Wausau automobilists, who heretofore when they wanted to see the latest models in cars have been forced to go to Milwaukee and Chicago, are carried out, Wausau will stage its first annual automobile show early next February. Already automobile manufacturers have written their willingness to exhibit cars.

The local automobile dealers' association will work in connection with the Wisconsin Valley Electric company in staging its show, which will probably be held at the Rothschild pavilion.

A committee has been appointed to wait upon automobile agents to get their co-operation.

FAMOUS OPERA IN THE MOVIES

Beatrice Michelena, whose face is one of the most welcomed on any La Crosse screen, will entertain at the Dome theater Thursday in the name part of a feature photoplay production, "Mignon," from the opera of the same name. The star's engagements at the North La Crosse picture theater have been memorable events and her appearance now is being looked forward to as something a bit out of the general run of films.

Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne, the screen favorites who were crowned king and queen of the motion picture carnival at La Crosse recently, and who were but a short time ago seen here in "Romeo and Juliet," are appearing at the Dome Wednesday in "A Million A Minute."

A Helpful Confession

Mrs. B. writes: "Had suffered for years with stomach disorder. Could not eat without great distress, lost weight and was run down. Feared it was ulcerated stomach."

"Fortunately I secured a sample of HEMO, which seemed to satisfy my hunger, and was retained without distress. I immediately bought a package and started to take it regularly. I continued to take it once a day and improved steadily. After one year I have gained 35 pounds of good solid flesh and can eat any food with no distress. I can recommend HEMO to all sufferers from stomach or digestive disorders."

Makes a delicious food drink by simply adding water.

We suggest that you try a 50c package with our guarantee of satisfaction.

Carter, who was chosen associate grand matron at the recent meeting of the grand chapter in Milwaukee. There were two hundred present. The members of Ruth chapter No. 23, having been invited to join La Crosse chapter for the occasion. Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. May Grimshaw of Elroy, grand matron, and Mrs. Elizabeth Little of Portage, past grand matron. In behalf of La Crosse chapter, Mrs. George R. Reay, Marchant, presented Mrs. Carter with a handsome bouquet of chrysanthemums. The regular meeting of the La Crosse chapter followed the banquet.

PROGRESSIVE DINNER
A progressive dinner was served Monday evening in honor of Miss Viola Wallace. The first course was served at the home of Miss Lucile Niebuhr, the second course at the home of Mrs. Joseph Dahl, and the third course was served by Miss Helen Hilton. The tables were beautifully decorated with chrysanthemums and ferns. After the dinner the party attended the theater. Those present were Viola Wallace, Cora Limon, Dora Eriehach, Marie Whittenberg, Leone Kiebusch, Grace Wallace, Verna Bowen, Kate Wiesche, Helen Hilton, Lucile Niebuhr, Jessie Hilton and Mrs. Joseph Dahl.

ALLEN-MILLER
At a quiet wedding at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Miller, 1118 South Thirteenth street, at noon Tuesday, Miss Ada Miller became the bride of Harvey Allen of Viroqua. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. E. Watson of the West Avenue Methodist church, and was witnessed only by relatives and a few intimate friends. There were no attendants. A wedding dinner was served following the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Allen will reside on a farm in Vernon county. Mr. and Mrs. J. Marion Allen of Viroqua, parents of the bridegroom, were here to witness the marriage of their son.

FOR MISS VERCHOTA
Miss Lillian Verchota was guest of honor at a charming evening company tendered her Tuesday evening by Mrs. Robert Swenson and Miss Martha Lund at the home of Mrs. Swenson, 1113 South Nineteenth street. The decorative scheme was carried out in pink and white, a cut glass vase of pink carnations centering the table, flanked on either side by pink candles in glass holders. Festoons of pink were dependent from the chandeliers to the corners of the table, and the place of the honor guest was designated by a dainty bow of pink tulle. There were fourteen present.

IN AND OUT OF TOWN
Mrs. Maria Keith, mother of Mrs. Arthur A. Bentley, returned yesterday from a three months' visit in Fargo, N. D.
Mr. and Mrs. Edwin McFarlin left today for Plainville, Minnesota, to be absent from the city for a week or ten days.

ENTERTAINS FOR SISTER
Miss Marie Phillips entertained at a pleasant evening company last evening at the home of her sister, Mrs. George R. Reay, 1337 Vine street, complimentary to another sister, Miss Mary Anne Phillips of Osage, Iowa. Fancy work and social chat occupied the greater portion of the evening, and light refreshments were served. There were seven guests.

LEAGUE ENTERTAINED
The members of the Catholic Women's league were entertained at the home of Mrs. Peter Capellen, Saturday afternoon from three to six; about ninety members were present.

CARD PARTY

WILTINGER-ARENZ
Miss Mamie Aronz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Aronz, 1634 Madison street, and Joseph Wiltinger were united in marriage at Holy Trinity church at nine o'clock yesterday morning. The bride was attended by Miss Ida Wiltinger as bridesmaid and Miss Eva Gillis as maid of honor. The best man was Mike Birnbaum and Messrs. Herman Mague and Fred Brenner were ushers. The church was beautifully decorated with palms and chrysanthemums. The bride wore a handsome gown of pussy willow tulle and georgette crepe with garniture of iridescent sequins. The bridesmaid's gown was of apricot georgette crepe with trimmings of satin bands and silver lace, while the maid of honor wore a frock of white georgette crepe over flesh colored satin with gold trimmings.

A wedding dinner at the home of the bride's parents followed the ceremony.
Mr. and Mrs. Wiltinger left last evening for a honeymoon trip to Minneapolis. They will reside in La Crosse.

BROTHERS FOLLOW SAME ROAD TO HEALTH

Aches and Pains Are Banished From Their Hearths

TANLAC RECEIVES CREDIT

A. R. Knudson, 2023 Berlin street, La Crosse, set such a good example by his use of Tanlac that his brother is now starting the Tanlac treatment. Mr. Knudson gave his signed statement to the Tanlac man, besides singing its praises wherever he goes. He said:

"I have much faith in Tanlac because one bottle showed such an improvement in my condition. I am satisfied that it will give me permanent relief from my stomach troubles."

"I had an aggravated condition of my stomach that I thought must be catarrhal. My food did not taste palatable. My appetite had left me and my night was one of horror."

"I saw Tanlac advertised in the local papers and was induced to try it, the endorsements sounded so encouraging."

"I have only taken the one bottle of Tanlac but my stomach troubles are lessening and I feel greatly relieved. I can rest better at night. My food begins to taste natural. My appetite is returning."

Mr. Knudson's words should carry weight, to anyone who is inclined to doubt the efficiency of Tanlac, as he is well known for his integrity and business ability among his associates.

Impure blood causes headaches, and wrecks our peace of mind, the system becomes clogged and disorders of all kinds are bound to follow. A disordered digestion is most always the start. Tons up the digestive organs, pure blood will flow through the body and perfect health will result.

Tanlac can be obtained here only from C. A. Begun's Drug Store where the Tanlac Man has his headquarters.

Tanlac can also be obtained from Geo. H. Seidel at Sparta; G. C. Grodzinger at Bangor.

charge of the lesson for the day, and gave a most interesting talk upon the Philippine islands and the work done there by the United States, pointing out the wonderful improvement resulting since the islands have been under the control of Uncle Sam.

Following intermission, at which time refreshments were served by the hostesses, the study of the short story was taken up by Mrs. Louis C. Hirschheimer, who gave in a pleasing style de Maupassant's story "The Stolen Necklace," and also the story "The Man Who Would Be King," by Rudyard Kipling. Mrs. Hirschheimer enhanced the effect of the stories by giving the setting of each and also the purpose back of the story.

A pleasing feature of the meeting was the rendition of an original poem by Mrs. Florence Bunting.

Announcement was made that at the next meeting of the club Prof. White of the normal school would be present and deliver a talk upon the short story.

PAULIST CHORISTERS

Europe has long been thought to believe that the only thing Americans are devoted to is dollars and cents. In the artistic world they are apt to be disregarded. The Paulist choir is one of the most striking proofs that the United States, and Chicago, the city of stock yards at that, can produce artistic work of high merit. America should be proud that it was the Paulist choir of Chicago which carried off the grand prize from among 500 rivals at the International Festival of Choristers at Paris before the war.

Fourteen thousand people gathered to hear the choir in the great cathedral of Notre Dame, where they sang Gounod's mass of Saint Cecilia sang Gounod's mass of Saint Cecilia out of compliment to the French. The stars and stripes had led the mammoth procession of choristers in its way to the cathedral, the first procession of its kind in history, and the Americans had been acclaimed with enthusiasm along the route.

They sang also before the president of the French republic and at his behest were toasted officially at the Hotel de Ville. Royal courtesies were extended them and the usual routine of the municipal palace suspended. Not only did they win first prize in the Division of Honor but Father Finn, their leader, was decorated with the Palms of the French academy.

In Rome the boys appeared in five concerts. One of these was at the vatican and customary etiquette was waived in their honor. The pope was so impressed that he created their director, Magister Cantorum, the highest musical degree in the church.

The Paulist choristers will give a concert at the La Crosse theater, Friday afternoon, December 1.

DON'T BE BILIOUS, HEADACHY, SICK OR CONSTIPATED

Enjoy life! Live your liver and bowels tonight and feel great.

Wake up with head clear, stomach sweet, breath right, cold gone.

Take one or two Cascarets tonight and enjoy the nicest, gentlest liver and bowel cleansing you ever experienced. Wake up feeling grand, your head will be clear, your tongue clean, breath sweet, stomach regulated and your liver and thirty feet of bowels active. Get a box at any drug store now and get straightened up by morning. Stop the headache, dizziness, bad colds and bad days. Feel fit and ready for work or play. Cascarets do not gripe, sicken or inconvenience you the next day like salts, pills or calomel. They're fine! Mothers should give a whole Cascaret anytime to cross, sick, bilious or feverish children because it will act thoroughly and can not injure.

Joe Gets Jim's Meal and Vows "Great to be Twin"

"It's great to be twins!" This was the exclamation by Joseph Ole Baker, member of the normal football team, following a visit to the sick room of his twin brother, Jim, also a member of the normal squad, who has been confined to the St. Francis hospital as a result of a rough mix in one of the recent games. Jim came out of the fray with a badly muddled nose and had to spend part of his Turkey Day vacation in the hospital getting his "odor detector" fixed.

It happened after the nurse had left the room, Jim decided to sit in a rocker and Joe lounged lazily upon the bed.

Enter nurse with tea and crackers for patient. She approached the bed where she had left Jim and proceeded with her duties of feeding her patient.

And now Jim wonders why he didn't get his evening meal while Joe laughs over his good fortune.

ELIASON IS NOT GREATLY SCARED BY F. & M. REPORTS

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 29.—Concerning probability of another foot and mouth epidemic, and the condition in Wisconsin, Dr. O. H. Eliason, veterinarian of the Wisconsin department of agriculture, said today:

"There may be nothing but a good scare to the suspected stock in the Kansas City stock yards. This happened in a conspicuous place. This department has had a good many calls to suspected cases and there have been 'anxious moments' for a few days, while deputy veterinarians guarded and waited developments and until positive diagnosis could be made.

"It should remind stock owners that it may be well to still use precaution, at least to the extent of not going to see stock that is reported sick.

"Veterinarians must still be on guard for the appearance of this disease. There is no doubt that there will be fewer outbreaks."

Help the Polish Sufferers

At the Thanksgiving service, in every federation church in La Crosse, a collection will be received for the relief of war sufferers in Poland.

President Wilson's proclamation has reached the public ear, and his appeal "in this, our day of peace and abundance," is expected to bring some measure of relief to a people whose destitution and suffering Americans can not nearly appreciate.

The United States government has provided a Christmas ship to carry stores and food to the stricken people of Europe.

But this appeal should not go to or through organizations alone. It should come to the individual, a message directed to his humanity, to his sense of justice, to his manhood. And so we ask that in all La Crosse and its vicinity EVERY MAN AND EVERY WOMAN DO SOMETHING, give SOMETHING, no matter how modest in value, as a personal contribution that good conscience will accept as recognition of every citizen's duty to his God and his species.

One need not confine this to the preaching hour. Give what you will to this suffering people. Pause as you go about your affairs to do this good deed. Leave your offerings at any bank or any newspaper office.

STANDS FOR Mentho Lxene Cold, Cough and Catarrh Medicine for Young and Old.

You buy it of any well stocked drug-store in 2 1/2 oz. bottles and take it in ten-drop doses, or better yet, mix it with simple sugar syrup, made by dissolving 3/4 of a pound of granulated sugar in a half-pint of boiling water. It is so easy to make a whole pint of cold and cough syrup that tens of thousands of mothers make it every year for their loved ones.

All agree that this home-made cough syrup is free from harmful drugs, and that only a few doses are required for each case, so that a pint may last a family throughout the winter season.

For colds, catarrh, cough, and bronchitis, there is nothing superior for prompt, lasting relief. Guaranteed by the Blackburn Products Co., Dayton, Ohio, to please or money back.

SAYS BODY IS A POISON FACTORY

Urges everyone to drink glass of hot water before breakfast

Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of combustible material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken day after day leaves in the alimentary canal a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not completely eliminated from the system each day, becomes food for the millions of bacteria which infest the bowels. From this mass of left-over waste, toxins and putrefactive poisons are formed and sucked into the blood.

Men and women who can't get feeling right must begin to take inside baths. Before eating breakfast each morning drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash out of the thirty feet of bowels the previous day's accumulation of poisons and toxins and to keep the entire alimentary canal clean, pure and fresh.

Those who are subject to sick headache, colds, biliousness, constipation, others who wake up with bad taste, foul breath, backache, rheumatic stiffness, or have a sour, gassy stomach after meals, are urged to get a quarter pound limestone phosphate from the drug store, and begin practicing internal sanitation. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on the subject.

Remember inside bathing is more important than outside bathing, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing poor health, while the bowel pores do. Just as soap and hot water cleanses, sweetens and freshens the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels.

SPELLING QUIZ IS SPRUNG UPON NORMAL STUDENTS

College students at the normal school are used to answering special questions in their line, physical eds are veritable sharks in the tests on anatomy while the students in the regular normal courses delight in questions of pedagogy but before Tuesday night made its appearance, the entire student body of the La Crosse normal had never passed the ordeal of the same examination for all students.

The exam came as a surprise to the students after they had finished a delightful program presented by the glee clubs of the school Tuesday.

The library and largest recitation rooms in the school were filled with students and the teachers in charge dictated twenty-four sentences to be written by the students. It was a spelling test which is going the rounds of all the normal schools and other institutions in the state to determine the spelling calibre of normal students by schools and by courses. The exams in the eight other state normal schools were all held on Tuesday.

SPARTA MAN IS IN BRITISH CAMP

to spend the pound in a soldier's way.

"That's A. L. Hollenbeck, of Sparta, Wis., three years in Porto Rico with the Third Wisconsin," Burr went on. "He and an Indian named Bassett from Pleasant Point, Maine, spend their leisure during the day searching for big woods. These cultivated forests don't fascinate them at all."

Major E. I. Harrington, also of Columbus, was vague about what caused him to join, but as fidgety to get to the front as an English Tommy after nine months in a training camp. Harrington won his football and baseball letters at Ohio State university, where he was a classmate of Burr's. Lieut. C. E. Davis, also of the legion, used to be their mathematics professor.

"Here is Captain H. C. Billing, Harvard, '05, eleven years in the Forty-seventh New York Infantry," said Harrington. "He ought to be a good man to define impulses and things."

Billing, a stocky, red faced officer, got up from a cot where he was seated reading a letter.

"Tell it to Dr. Elliot," he said. "It's too much for me. If you do get the answer, let me in on it. When does the next draft go to France?"

"It's the same all the way through," Burr said. "We have college men galore in the outfit who have passed up careers in everything from the movies to medicine. Not all are officers, either."

"Sergeant Lester Longance of Ashford, N. C., was graduated from Carlisle and left the academy at West Point last March to join. Sergeant Major W. C. Sapp is a graduate of West Virginia university. He gave up a position in Chicago when he heard the legion was forming."

"Captain E. B. Hutchinson of Mount City, Ill., left a prosperous practice down in the 'Egypt' section. He studied medicine at Northwestern university and is our medical officer."

Officers agree that Lieutenant Francis of Taunton, Mass., sacrificed most when the "something" called him for England's forces. A Harvard man of the class of '92, Francis had become vice-president of a big shoe firm in Taunton. He went to the Somme with the latest draft and was complimented on the discipline of his men.

Just one man was found in the legion whose reason for joining is always on the tip of his tongue, coupled with a fluent stream of anti-German comment. He is Joachim Josten, of Moline, Ill., a Belgian.

SEVERE RHEUMATIC PAINS DISAPPEAR

Rheumatism depends on an acid which flows in the blood, affecting the muscles and joints, producing inflammation, stiffness and pain. This acid gets into the blood through some defect in the digestive processes, and remains there because the liver, kidneys and skin are too torpid to carry it off.

Hood's Sarsaparilla, the old-time blood tonic, is very successful in the treatment of rheumatism. It acts directly, with purifying effect, on the liver, kidneys and skin, which it stimulates, and at the same time it improves the digestion.

Get Hood's Sarsaparilla today. Sold by all druggists.

Greece Refuses To Comply With Allies' Demands

ATHENS, Nov. 29.—With King Constantine presiding, the crown council has determined that it cannot oppose the Greek government in its decision to refuse demands of the allies for disarmament. It was said Wednesday the council's resolution had been forwarded to the allies through Vice Admiral Fournet, who made the original demands.

A meeting of the cabinet later confirmed the crown council's refusal and determined to persist in the government's attitude of non-compliance with the allied demands.

Report British Repulse.
BERLIN, via Sayville Wireless, Nov. 29.—"Repulse of an attack by a British company near Givenchy and southwest of Lens, made in a dense fog was announced in Wednesday's official statement."

In the Somme sector the report said hostile fire increased during the evening hours along the north bank of the Ancre and in St. Pierre Vaast wood.

Russians Claim Successes.
PETROGRAD, Nov. 29.—The ridges and heights eastward and southward of Koldihaba were captured by Russian troops, Wednesday's official statement asserted.

Kirtihaba is in southeastern Kukuwinia in the Carpathians.

Says Allies Gain at Monastir.
PARIS, Nov. 29.—Continued progress of allied forces north and west of Monastir was reported in Wednesday's official statement.

East of the Cerna the Serbians brilliantly carried and retained a height northwest of Grunitza despite violent counter attacks by the enemy.

Four Towns Fall.
PETROGRAD, Nov. 29.—Occupation by the enemy of four towns along the front from Alexandria to Somnita in southern Rumania, was admitted in Wednesday's war office statement. The villages mentioned were Prunaro, Topor, Vieru and Slobozela.

Admit Allied Gains.
BERLIN, via Sayville Wireless, Nov. 29.—Partial advances Tuesday northwest of Monastir and near Grunitza, east of the Cerna, was attributed to the allied forces in Wednesday's official report, which, however, declared the general offensive of the enemy has failed.

Haig Reports Shelling.
LONDON, Nov. 29.—General Sir Douglas Haig reported Wednesday in intermittent enemy shelling around Guedecourt and southwards of Arras with trench mortar activity around Mauquissart and Neuve Chapelle.

NEURALGIC PAINS

Shooting pains in the head with giddiness, noise in the ears and tenderness of the scalp—pains in the neck and shoulders or extending down the arms to the hands, these are the most common symptoms of neuralgia.

There are a number of causes of neuralgia. It is most common in families whose members have nervous dispositions and it is very often a result of anemia or lack of blood.

Hot applications give temporary relief in neuralgia and should be used. They cannot cure the trouble because the pain is the complaint that the under nourished nerve is making and it will not be quieted until the nerve is fed. The only way to reach the nerves with nourishment is through the blood. That is why thin blood so frequently leads to neuralgia. When the blood becomes thin the nerves lack nourishment. Build up the blood, supply to it the elements that the nerve need and you begin to correct the neuralgia.

The free booklet "Diseases of the Nervous System" will interest you. Write for it today to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail on receipt of price 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50.

PROTEST AGAINST DEPORTATION OF BELGIANS READY

BY ROBERT J. BENDER
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—United States Ambassador Gerard will carry a vigorous protest from this government against the deportation of Belgians into Germany when he leaves for his Berlin post, December 5.

An outline of this government's attitude on the question which has stirred all Europe will be given to Gerard personally by President Wilson.

Since Secretary Lansing requested the American embassy at Berlin to inquire regarding Belgian deportations, several replies have been received from American officials in Germany outlining the German defense of her action. Obviously, officials admit, the decision to send the protest by Gerard shows this government is dissatisfied with these explanations.

Flour Tumbles But Bakers Will Keep up Bread

Tobogganing of flour prices in La Crosse during the last five days will not affect the price of bread, bakers said on Wednesday.

The Listman Mill company quoted "patent" flour on Wednesday at $9.60 per barrel, a decline of twenty cents since Tuesday and a drop of ninety cents from prices last week.

"Straight" is quoted at $9.40 a barrel, which is a proportionate drop.

Bread prices will remain the same at present," a baker said. "The prices will have to go down to $8 before loaves can again be sold for six cents."

Bread is now retailed in La Crosse for seven cents.

"Talk of an embargo on food stuffs in this country, and gossip of the end of the European war being in sight, have had to do with the drop in prices," said an official of the Listman mill, "although the chief cause for the decline lies in the fact that big holders of wheat have liquidated."

BOYCOTTS SEND TURKEY COST DOWN

PITTSBURG, Pa., Nov. 29.—Live turkey went down to five cents a pound under the boycott's hammer at Monongahela wharf Wednesday.

One big dealer who bought thousands of the birds, announced that he would sell out at whatever price he could get. With reports that another boat load was coming, housewives flocked to the wharf.

Panic seized the group of speculators that had bought many thousands of the birds at high prices from

FIGHT FOR STATE TITLE AT NORMAL FIELD ON THURSDAY

BELL WANTS TEAM THAT WILL SCORE FROM 20-YARD LINE

Team Put Through Stiff Workout Tuesday Night with Title Clash with Edgerton in View

In an eleventh hour attempt to build up an offense which will gain consistently within the twenty yard line, Coach Bell gave out a new dazzling shift to his warriors at practice Tuesday night. The shift is altogether different from anything that has ever been pulled off in La Crosse and it is hoped that the deciding score against Edgerton Thursday in the state championship fight can be put over with it.

Practice Tuesday afternoon was held at Normal field, that the pigskin chasers would be used to it on Turkey day. The holes in the field have been carefully filled in with sand and tamped down so that the field will be smooth and even. It is still a little slippery in spots but Mr. Ritter, who has charge of it, has been working all during the day and in all probability it will be in fine shape for the championship battle with the Tobacco city boys.

Practice showed that the line can be depended upon in any emergency. With the ball on the two yard line, first one half and then the other stopped four swift rushes by Youngberg and Fomberg. Although Bunge was still bothered with his infested toe and could not come out for practice, it was given out that with a little workout Wednesday, he would be in good condition. Schick is showing lots of fight and can be depended upon to fill the gap if Bunge's illness should prevent him from putting on his football shoes.

As to the backfield, Coach Bell will have nothing to worry about there, it is thought, Pratt, Feinberg, Layman and Youngberg being in excellent condition. The backs have no fear of playing with the old abandon, for Weeks, Swennes and Spottel, all of whom are on a par with the regulars, can run the ends and hit the line with lightning speed.

'Varsity Will Have Turkey Mix With All Stars

Coach Shafer's Varsity will also have a Thanksgiving day game. They will clash with the North Side All-Stars, an aggregation composed largely of former high school letter men, at ten o'clock in the morning before eating their Turkey dinner. The battle will take place on the high school practice field. No admission will be charged but a collection may be taken for a banquet for the second team. The Varsity has been trying to get a game all season and had games scheduled with Castleton and Galesville. These teams, however, disbanded before the date of the games so the Varsity has been idle every Saturday.

The boys worked till dusk Tuesday night and showed as much fight as the first team. Coach Shafer has been teaching them some of the old plays which were used when he attended Cornell, and the boys are running them off like seasoned veterans. Captain "Grump" Wolters, who stopped Sparta from scoring a safety in the last quarter of the Sparta game, is confident of a win.

WOULD WASH CUSSWORDS FROM TOMMY'S SPEECH

LONDON, Nov. 29.—London's long-faced element tossed up its hands today with the discovery that Tommy is a violent "cussler." "Foul and blasphemous words are, as it were, common in camp speech," said a prominent church goer who hopes to wash Tommy's vocabulary. "To hear such a conversation first shocks young and sensitive minds and ears but gradually these horrible expressions slip into the average soldier's vocabulary."

A large number of soldiers have enlisted from Billingsgate market and Covent Garden, the two centers of supervenient cussing in London.

The reformers suggest gentler language from the officers as one means of uplifting Tommy's speech.

CERTAIN OF STOCK PLAGUE

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 29.—Government inspectors and stockmen admitted Tuesday they were practically certain that the Kansas stock yards are infected with the hoof and mouth disease.

Late Monday afternoon symptoms of the disease showed on two healthy cattle placed in the herd which officers feared, were infected. This practically convinced officials that the malady has invaded Kansas City.

AGED-WOMAN FOUND DEAD

PORTAGE, Wis., Nov. 29.—Mrs. Eliza Phelps, 71 years old, sister of the Hon. F. J. Kimball and postmistress at Briggsville, Wis., for twelve years, was found dead Monday afternoon, lying on the floor at her home. Death was due to neuralgia of the heart.

Finishes Record Gridiron Career With Local High

"RUD" BLATTER
Blatter has played with the Red and Black regulars since his freshman year. He was not taken from a game until one of the matches this year, when he was taken out to save his strength for harder mixes. He plays his last game as a high school man against Edgerton Thursday.

NORMAL ABANDONS BASKET BALL TOUR OF THREE STATES

Heavy Expense to School Athletic Association Reason; Team to Work for Regular Schedule

It became known at the normal school on Wednesday that the basketball team this year will not make tour of Wisconsin, Illinois and Indiana, owing to the heavy expense which would fall on the athletic association of the school. Although all but about $40 of the money spent by the players on the trip last season was secured from the money received in each town where the team stopped for a game, it was thought by the school authorities that the added expenses would not permit of a duplication of the basketball travels.

Following the announcement of the calling off of the anticipated journey, the efforts of normal players turned to concentration on the regular schedule, embracing four games with each of the four other normal school teams in the southern section of the state. Although games have been played at the school between various picked teams, regular practices have not begun, but will be introduced with the first call for basketball candidates immediately following the Thanksgiving recess.

An innovation probably will be started in the basketball realm at the school this year in an effort to economize, it was announced by Dr. Spuh on Wednesday. Instead of having a non-playing student as manager of the five to administer to the needs of the team at home and on all the trips, the manager this year will be selected from one of the regular players or from a group of subs so that when the manager accompanies the team on a trip he can also sub as a member of the squad in addition to his regular work in a business capacity.

OLD MAN GOBBLER TO BE ECLIPSED BY PIGSKIN OVAL

Spirit at Fever Heat in City with Rousing Mass Meeting Arranged for Evening at Theater

There is going to be an eclipse in La Crosse Thursday. To some it may be partial, to others total. Old Man Gobbler is not going to hog the lion's share of attention. A fight for the state high school championship will do the eclipsing. Mr. Gobbler enters the shadow at any time between six Wednesday and 2:45 Thursday afternoon and it is doubtful if he gets out in a year.

When an oval goes spinning through the atmosphere Thursday afternoon at Normal field, with it go the hopes of Edgerton and La Crosse for the premier honors of the year. And there will start the biggest game, probably, ever to be seen in La Crosse.

La Crosse is simply football crazy. City circles ring with discussion of the coming match. And three thousand people, it is estimated, will crowd into the Normal field stadium Thursday afternoon.

The incandescent stage was to be reached Wednesday evening in a mass meeting at the La Crosse theater, presided over by Myron Locke, former premier cheer leader, District Attorney Otto M. Schlach, who, as president of the alumni association, conceived the meeting. Otto Bossard, A. H. Schubert and a bevy of former stars of the local gridiron.

Edgerton Game To Seal Local Careers of Many

When the Red and Black clashes with Edgerton Thursday, many of the boys who have helped to put La Crosse on the football map in capital letters, will play their last game for the school. Rudy Blatter, Lisovec, Bleakely, Bunge, Schick, Argall, Feinberg, Layman, Youngberg, Weeks, Swennes and Captain Spottel will all be graduated in June and Coach Bell will be minus their services next year. They are anxious to close their high school football career with a win and this will be a great factor in the Turkey day battle.

At the game the custom of forming the opposing team's letter between halves will be followed and a monster B. will be made. Mr. Hasset's guard will take care of all the ushering at the game and accommodations have been made to seat over 3,000 people.

BLOOMINGTON COLT SHOW IS SUCCESS

BLOOMINGTON, Wis.—(Special).—The first annual colt show for this place was held Saturday and was a success.

There were twenty-six fine colts in the ring. Exhibitors were as follows:

W. J. Hauser of Mondovi served as judge, and he was assisted by Mr. Baker of Madison, secretary of the Wisconsin Livestock Breeders' association.

CORNMEAL WILL BEAT LIVING COSTS

DES MOINES, Ia., Nov. 29.—"Eat corn products if you would beat the high cost of living," is the substance of the advice of State Dairy and Food Commissioner W. B. Barney. He says that a pound of cornmeal, costing three cents has a food value equal to: 2.4 quarts of milk costing 19.2 cents; 2.6 pounds of cheese, 24 cents; 1.9 pounds round steak, 41.5 cents; 22 eggs, 64 cents; 17 ounces beans, 14 cents; 17 1/2 ounces honey, 20 cents; 18 oranges, 60 cents, or two loaves of white bread, 10 cents.

HIGH SCHOOL HAPS

A Thanksgiving pageant will take the place of general assembly at the high school this week and will be held in the auditorium at 2:30 Wednesday afternoon. The pageant will consist of a series of tableaux reviewed by Columbia. The tableaux are:

The foreigner's reception; the rescue of John Smith; Puritans at church; the first Thanksgiving day in America; the story of colonization; the discovery of the Mississippi; the signing of the Declaration of Independence; Washington's reception; western migration; a western scene; a southern scene; the signing of the emancipation proclamation; the surrender of Lee; Uncle Sam's sons and daughters; United States, the melting pot; Our Union.

In some of the tableaux there will be some dances, as the old minuet. The music for the entertainment will be furnished by the orchestra. The teachers in charge have been drilling the pupils for a week and at the rehearsal yesterday afternoon, the program was run through without a hitch.

"Two Latin Students in France" is the name of the play given at the bi-weekly meeting of the Latin club yesterday afternoon. The purpose of the club is to further the study of the Latin language and to demonstrate its practicability. The little comedy showed two Americans who went abroad and tried to get something to eat in a French restaurant where the waitress could not speak English. One of them, remembering that French was ninety per cent Latin and finally succeeded in getting a dinner. The other, who had forgotten his Latin, went hungry.

Miss Cora Kemper, who was a domestic science instructor in the high school last year, was married to Mr. Phil Meyer of Pasco, Washington recently. Mr. and Mrs. Meyer will be at home at Pasco, Washington, after December 10.

Miss Dorothy Irish, a member of the class of '14, has been chosen a member of the editorial staff of the Minnesota Daily.

Herbert Staas has returned from the southern border ahead of his comrades. He had an attack of malarial fever and was given a furlough. As the Third Wisconsin is already in Chicago, it is not likely that Herbert will have to return to it.

THE HASKIN LETTER

Canada In War-Time

III—The Churches at War
By Frederic J. Haskin
MONTREAL, Nov. 29.
I n Canada this is a holy war of faith. In the churches patriotic meetings have been held, and battalions recruited; from almost every pulpit it is preached that this is a war to save Christendom. In the churches, too, are hung the battle flags of the battalions and long honor rolls are posted of the members that have gone to war. Those honor rolls now appeal to revenge as well as patriotism, for they are mostly rolls of the dead.
Catholic and Protestant are united to fight this battle for a common ideal. It has been said that the French Catholic priests are in part responsible for the failure of the French-Canadians to enlist as a class. This is denied by men who know.
The Protestant church in Canada has given its best brains and energy to the war. Many of its ministers are in khaki. The chief recruiting officer here is Major C. A. Williams, a big blonde brogue-speaking Irishman. When the war broke out he was Reverend Williams, pastor of the St. James Methodist church. His first battle, and the one that gained him his commission was fought with the deacons and leading lights of his own church.

When recruiting began, Williams saw one horror of war that he thought he could mitigate. Thousands of young men, filled with unusual emotions of the moment, were thrown half-idle upon the town. Drunkenness and prostitution were everywhere. Out of one battalion, seventy men were sent home "medically unfit," as the result of dissipation. Canada was losing men before they got the front, and many of these were maimed by diseases worse than wounds.
Williams founded a soldiers' club in the spacious basement of his church. He arranged with the women of his congregation to furnish the members with meals at less than cost. He prohibited all religious preachments and solicitations. He had a number of pool tables installed and allowed smoking. The men joined to the limit of the establishment's capacity. It is no unusual thing to find a hundred and fifty of them in the club at a time.
But the deacons of the church rebelled in a spirit of holy horror. The idea of a pool room and smoking in the basement of the old and ultra-respectable St. James church strained their tolerance past the "breaking point." The thing got into the newspapers, and letters of expostulation came to Williams from all over America. But he stood pat. Another church had made him an offer that included more salary. He said that he would stay where he was provided he could have his own way, and his way included a soldiers' club with smoking and pool tables. A majority of the congregation backed him, and the club still flourishes.

Incidentally, the military authorities were quick to see the powers of leadership in Williams. He enlisted and became a major and chief recruiting officer. He has now applied for permission to go to the front, and expects to leave soon.
The recruiting problem in Montreal is to reach and persuade to enlist those men who are not indispensable at home, and to persuade to stay home those who are necessary in the munition factories. The trouble is that the very men who are most needed at home are often readiest to go to the front.
In the early part of the war, recruiting was carried on by patriotic meetings in the churches and in Dominion Square, recruiting addresses in moving picture shows and theaters, special moving picture meetings where war scenes were shown, street car and military parades with brass bands—all designed to stir up patriotic feeling. In the country, similar programs on a smaller scale were carried out by recruiting agents sent out from Montreal.
All of these means have now practically lost their efficiency. The tumult-and-shouting period of the war is over; the spirit of the town is one of grim, resigned determination; the "people" no longer respond to drums and oratory. There are no more great armies to march through the streets with bands and colors, although some soldiers are coming back. A detachment reached Montreal yesterday. There were twenty-two men. All of them had been wounded, many of them were maimed for life. They were met by a crowd and a brass band, but there was nothing exultant in the spirit of the crowd. It was dotted with women in black who had come in the hope of word about men that would never return.
Where such a spirit prevails, the usual methods of recruiting are out of the question; yet Montreal is still gathering men. Sixty-one enlisted here yesterday, and this military district has led the whole dominion in the number of men recruited for the past three fortnights. These results are accomplished almost entirely by individual canvass. Employers are asked for lists of their employees, and are requested to indicate which are indispensable to business, and which may best be spared. Then non-commissioned officers are sent to solicit each of the men who ought to enlist. Major Williams has found that soliciting a recruit is much like selling a life insurance policy or an order of soap, and men who have been insurance agents or salesmen make the best recruiting officers.

The attitude of men toward enlistment affords an interesting insight into human motives. Some men on list on the spur of the moment, stirred by music or an address. Others come to the decision to enlist only after long thought and self-communion. Some men are determined to go at all hazards of personal sacrifice. For example there is an artisan here making forty-five dollars a week—much more than he ever made before in his life—who has been rejected because his teeth are bad. He is now having his teeth expensively mended, and writes that he is determined to go to war, in spite of the fact that he has failed for two years to qualify.

Frequently the spirit of desperation that follows a reversal in personal fortunes will send men to the front. Shortly after the war real estate values dropped sharply in Montreal, and within a few days a platoon made up entirely of leading real estate agents went to the front.
Most men upon whose service the nation has any claim can be persuaded by some argument to enlist. The type of man who simply will not go because he doesn't want to is rare, but he exists and exasperates. Two recruiting officers yesterday argued for two hours with a young man who was in every way fit, and who cheerfully admitted his eligibility for service, but refused flatly to enlist.
The influence of women is on the whole a stimulus to recruiting, despite the point of view voiced in "War Brides" and "I did not raise my boy to be a soldier." This point of view is represented here, for example, by a woman whose son enlisted, and being a dental student, was assigned to the dental corps, where he was just as safe as though he stayed at home. His mother, when solicited for a contribution to some patriotic fund, announced that she could make "no further sacrifices." One wealthy woman here has sent three sons to the front, one of whom has been killed. To a letter of consolation, she replied that she would rather have for a son a dead man somewhere in France than a slacker somewhere in Canada. This earnest fighting spirit, that is able to bear sacrifice, is common among Canadian women. In the best English-speaking circles there is practically no social life this winter because the girls will not receive men who have not enlisted.
Above all these motives and forces urging men to enlist, devotion to the fatherland towers by far the greatest. Canadians enlist in inverse ratio to the length of time they have been in Canada. Those who were born in the old country go almost to a man; those who have been one generation on this side, and know of the England as home through their parents, are generally ready for battle. But those who come of families that have lived many generations in America lack the deepest and most primitive impulses to fight.

The impression that one gets of Canada's part in the war is of genuine idealism. Those who live in Europe fight for the immediate safety and welfare of themselves and their families. But the danger of invasion is remote to say the least Canadians really fight for what are to them the ideals of Christianity and civilization.
Beware of people whose politeness is excessive.

Get Away This Winter!

Pack your grip, tell the folks goodbye, go down to the depot, buy a ticket to California—that great Out-of-doors land, which rests the weary and refreshes the weak—via the Burlington Route (the moving picture way through scenic Colorado and Salt Lake in daylight). Climb aboard, lean back, relax and watch America roll past your window.

Getting away from the cold, bad weather, business responsibilities, care and worry, and out into the glorious sunshine and semi-tropical atmosphere of California where you can rest, change and rejuvenate, will do you a world of good.

You'll be surprised when you compare the cost with the cost of remaining at home. Think what this will mean to you, when you remember that a life which isn't pleasantly spent isn't well spent. Before completing your plans let me explain how you may join a Burlington Personally Conducted Excursion (costs no more—just a part of Burlington Service) and send you a folder telling all about the trip—worth reading even if you don't go.

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"My little daughter had a bad case of eczema on her head and face when she was five months old. She took it with just a few little red pimples, and it started from that and spread all over her face, head and neck. They got real sore and she would scratch as they would itch her so much. She was terribly cross and fretful. While it lasted, her face could not sleep or rest until I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I started with just a free sample and it relieved her so I purchased more and about two months after, she was healed." (Signed) Mrs. Alice Wilberger, R. F. D. 4, Alliance, Ohio, July 26, 1915.

MONROE BOARD NOT TO AID SPARTA AND TOMAH EXPOSITIONS

SPARTA, Wis.—(Special.)—The county board which has been in session here the past two weeks, finished up their work for the present on Saturday and adjournment till Jan. 3. Most of the time was taken up with committee reports, and the usual routine work. There were also numerous petitions from different towns and districts asking for road and bridge aid.

P. C. Pederson was unanimously re-elected as an asylum trustee. A resolution for the levying of the county school tax was adopted.

The report of the finance committee on report of Soldiers' Relief Commission was read and adopted.

Sid N. Smith presented a petition asking for an appropriation of $500 each to the Tomahawk and Sparta fairs. The committee to which it was referred reported against the granting of the aid asked. A petition from the city of Tomah for the reimbursement of money given to families of Co. K, while the company was away, was also turned down, it being the opinion of the district attorney that the board could not legally make such an appropriation.

Myron Brackett was unanimously elected to succeed himself as a member of the committee on common schools. Messrs. J. P. Johnson, C. S. Wilder and George F. Goff were elected to act as a county state roads and bridge committee. P. M. Johnson was re-elected unanimously as highway commissioner. A resolution to appropriate $1,100 for a fund for the relief of the blind was read and approved.

The board elected Supervisor J. W. Leverich as delegate to attend the convention of county board members to be held in Madison the coming winter.

Resolution fixing the highway commissioner's salary for 1917 at $1,300, was read and adopted.

Other matters of smaller interests and reports and resolutions were read and adopted, but these covered the principal part of the work of the board the last few days it was in session. They will meet again Jan. 3, 1917.

BURGLAR TAKEN HERE AGAIN IS OVER THE WALLS

John Mason, escaped convict arrested here with Joseph Kandybe, escaped inmate of an Illinois hospital for criminal insane, after burglarizing the house of Rev. J. H. Benson, 1024 Caledonia street, has escaped for the second time from the Michigan state prison at Ionia. Mason was sent back to Ionia to finish his term when caught by the local police after the Benson burglary last June.

Word of his second escape was received in La Crosse on Wednesday, in the shape of an offer of $50 reward for his capture.

Mason was serving a fifteen year term for burglary. He put up a savage fight when arrested near Medary, after the Benson burglary. Kandybe, his companion, was sent to the Chester hospital after committing a murder in Chicago.

DR. PRICE PRODS SLEEPY CHRISTIAN

Better Be Right Than Orthodox Is Belief of the Universal Evangelist Here

"Please Go 'Way and Let Me Sleep," according to Dr. W. G. Price, evangelist, is the favorite hymn of many church people. Dr. Price told this, with several other pungent statements, to a number of St. Paul's, Universalist church people, who heard him talk Tuesday night on "The Church Worth While."

"It is better to be right than orthodox," declared Dr. Price, in supporting his declaration that Christianity has a mission as well as a message.

"We must have more than eternal hope. We must have intense conviction. It is harder to be right than orthodox, better to be progressive than liberal. If you can't be loyal to your own church find one you can be loyal to. The world puts the same estimate on your church that you do. If the lodge or your automobile is worth more to you than your church, you must expect others to feel the same way."

Wednesday night Dr. Price was to speak on "Putting Real in Religion," and on Thursday his address will be "Facts vs. Religion."

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS

Forty acres of farm land in the town of Holland, near the Trempealeau county line, has been sold by G. H. Hesselmann of Dubuque, Iowa, to James McDonald, a resident of Trempealeau county. A deed, which did not state the amount of the consideration, was filed on Wednesday with Register of Deeds Andrew E. Thompson.

Property in the town of Farmington, near the village of Burr Oak, has been transferred by Emmeline E. Gray to E. C. Truesdale. Both are residents of the county of Vernon. The consideration was $3,500.

Fred G. Meyer has sold a small piece of property in the town of Burns, to the township. The price paid was $341.

And now returns the day of retrospect. We pause, with grateful hearts, to survey a year of abundant harvest, of achievement, happiness and peace. And from its cherished memories we turn to the future, our bosoms filled with the hope of continued prosperity, progress and plenty.

Much of the comfort and cheer which have been ours during the past year has been brought to us by man's greatest servant—Electricity. It has brightened our homes, lifted our burdens, turned the wheels of manufacture, provided our transportation. To man, woman and child alike, it has freely given its blessings. For its aid in a hundred thousand ways, we may be truly thankful.

WILL TAKE VOTE ON RAIL STRIKE ISSUE

That the question of averting threatened railroad strikes will come before the business men of the country in the shape of a referendum of the National Chamber of Commerce was announced Wednesday by James R. Kinsloe, secretary of the La Crosse Chamber of Commerce, upon his return from the east, where he was a delegate, with A. M. Bratton, to the municipal convention at Springfield, Mass. On his way to Springfield, Mr. Kinsloe attended a meeting of the National Council of the Chamber of Commerce at Washington, where the railroad strike and other questions were discussed. Every member of the national chamber will be given an opportunity to vote in the recommendations of the council.

SEVEN HURT WHEN AUTOMOBILE HITS FARMER'S WAGON

Seven people suffered painful injuries in a smashup on the Mormon Coulee road at 11 o'clock Tuesday night, when an automobile driven by Oscar Doering, proprietor of the Doering hotel, collided head-on with a farm wagon driven by Jacob Erlwein, a market-gardener living just outside the city.

Those injured are:

Mrs. O. G. Doering, right arm broken.

Samuel Seligman, severe cut over left eye.

Fred R. Hanson, head cut.

Jacob Erlwein, bruised and cut.

Mrs. Erlwein, bruised and cut.

Joseph Bernar, bruised and cut.

Sadie Betnar, bruised and cut.

None Seriously Hurt

None of the injuries received were serious, and all of the victims were at their homes on Wednesday, after treatment at local hospitals after the accident. The two horses of Erlwein's team were under treatment by a veterinarian, having suffered more painful injuries than any of the human victims. They were severely gashed on the chest and legs.

Mr. and Mrs. Doering, with Seligman and Hanson were returning to the city after an excursion. Erlwein was driving out to his home. The accident occurred just two blocks from the city limits.

The motorist told the police, who were called by witnesses of the accident, that he had been driving at a low rate of speed, but that he had missed seeing the Erlwein rig until too late to prevent the accident, because his lights were dimmed.

All Need Doctor's Care
With the exception of Miss Viola Erlwein, all of the occupants of the farm wagon were given medical attention after the smashup. They were taken to the La Crosse hospital, where their injuries were dressed. Later they were taken to their home in a taxi. Mrs. Doering and Seligman were taken to the hospital, also. Hanson went to the Lutheran hospital for treatment.

The Doering automobile suffered extensive injury to its top, and the windshield was broken. The right front fender was also knocked out of shape, but otherwise the car was not badly hurt.

TWO LOCAL WOMEN RIVAL DIANA WITH A DEER A PIECE

Diana of the Ephesians had better look to her laurels as a huntress, if she would not be worsted by Mesdames H. L. Starr and J. W. Haines, two La Crosse women who returned from the northern woods Tuesday night with a deer apiece, shot by themselves.

Mrs. Haines and Mr. and Mrs. Starr spent three weeks on Mr. Starr's big tract near Hawkins, where each bagged a buck. Mrs. Starr's was the largest, a two-year-old. Mrs. Haines and Mr. Starr each brought back a spike-buck or yearling.

THE HOME DOCTOR

How to Relieve Rheumatism
After each meal and at bedtime take a tablespoonful of the following home-made medicine now used all over the United States and noted for its remarkable results. Relief begins at once.
Syrup of Sarsaparilla 1 ounce
Whiskey or Simple Elixir 1/2 pint

To End Coughs
The following formula, easily mixed at home, makes even of the quickest cough remedies obtainable after curing the worst cough in a day. Take a teaspoonful as often as necessary.
Glycerine 2 ounces
Whiskey (or sugar syrup) 2 pints
Globe Pine Compound Aromatic 1/2 ounce ("Concentrated Pine")

If sugar syrup is used instead of whiskey it can be easily made by dissolving 6 heaping tablespoonfuls of granulated sugar in 2 cup of water. Be sure to use Globe Pine Compound, which is sold only in 1/2-oz. screw top cases with Aromatic printed in red on outside label.

Frost-bites, Corns, Sore Feet
Bathe the feet in warm water to which has been added two tablespoonfuls of Calocide compound. This gives instant relief for aching, burning or perspiring feet; corns, callouses, sore bunions; also for frost-bites or chilblains. The Calocide acts through the pores removing the cause of the trouble. Its use also keeps the feet in a firm, healthy condition, free from swelling and puffing.

These formulas are published by the Medical Formula Laboratories, Dayton, Ohio. The ingredients specified can be procured from any good drug store.

I Recommend Peruna To All Sufferers Of Catarrh—

I Do Not Think I Ever Felt Much Better

Mrs. William H. Hinchliffe, No. 20 Myrtle St., Beverly, Mass., writes: "I have taken four bottles of Peruna, and I can say that it has done me a great deal of good for catarrh of the head and throat. I recommend Peruna to all sufferers with catarrh. I do not think I ever felt much better. I am really surprised at the work I can do. I do not think too much praise can be said for Peruna." Our booklet, telling you how to keep well, free to all.

Those who object to liquid medicines can now procure Peruna Tablets.

MUNICIPAL BAND WILL TOOT FOR SOLDIER WELCOME

La Crosse soldiers coming home from the Mexican border will be received with blaring band music, it was announced on Wednesday, when F. E. Guenther, of the Municipal band, declared that the musicians had decided to donate their services to the city reception committee. A band of between forty and fifty pieces will greet the returning militiamen with patriotic music. The band has offered its services to Chairman B. C. Smith of the council reception committee.
